UM LAW SCHOOL TO COSPONSOR SEMINAR
ON EQUAL EMPLOYMENT PROBLEMS

MISSOULA-

A seminar on equal employment problems, cosponsored by the University of Montana School of Law and the Western Montana Bar Association, is slated for March 10 in the University Center at UM.

The afternoon program will be presented by CLEM (Continuing Legal Education-- Montana) with registration from 11:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m. in the Montana Rooms of the UC.

A luncheon will be held in the Montana Rooms from 12:15-1:30 p.m. Luncheon speaker and guest panelist will be William H. Brown, III, Chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), Washington, D.C.

Advanced registration is requested. Deadline for reservations is March 8. Registration forms can be obtained by writing the University of Montana School of Law, Missoula, Mont., 59801. The cost of the luncheon is $3.50 with no additional charge for the afternoon seminar session.

During the luncheon address, Brown will explain the organization, functions and objectives of the EEOC. The address will serve as a background for a more detailed description of equal employment problems in a discussion during the afternoon.

John P. McCrory, law school associate professor, said the format for the afternoon session will be informal to promote a free exchange between Brown, copanelists and seminar participants.

UM LAW SCHOOL COSPONSORS SEMINAR--2

The session will start with a statement from Brown concerning the methods and techniques used by the EEOC to deal with violations and achieve the objectives of equal employment laws. The program will be open for questions and discussion.

"The seminar is open to all persons who are interested in equal employment problems. Nonlawyers as well as lawyers are encouraged to attend," McCrory said.
